

Andrew J. May, 2 Garssons And Agent To Face Fraud Charges

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington Jan. 24 (AP)—Andrew J. May, former chairman of the House Military Committee, and the Garsson brothers pleaded innocent today to charges of conspiring to defraud the government.

Also accused with May are Henry M. Garsson, described in a Senate investigation as the guiding spirit of the combine which did $78,000,000 of business in war contracts; Murray Garsson, his brother; and Joseph F. Freeman, the group's Washington agent.

Chief Justice Bolitha Laws, who received their plea in U. S. District Court, fixed March 19 for trial.

Each of the defendants was released in $2,000 bond.

Had Munitions Combine

The Garssons were organizers of a wartime munitions combine which received more than $78,000,000 in war contracts. Freeman was their Washington representative.

An indictment returned by a grand jury yesterday charges that May agreed to receive $53,634.07 and "other sums" from them and to use his influence to get them profitable contracts.

The 71-year-old former congressman appeared tense but gave no show of emotion as he stood before Justice Laws to answer the charges.

"I plead not guilty," he said in a strong voice.

Similar pleas then were entered by the two Garssons and Freeman.

The whole court arraignment took less than 15 minutes.

May had traveled most of the night to get here and the Garsson brothers had rushed to Washington from Illinois.

Asked For Delay

May's attorney, Warren Magee, of Washington, asked Justice Laws for at least 15 days in which to go over the 16-page indictment, which he said was "involved."

Similar requests were made by attorneys for Freeman and the Garsson brothers.

Justice Laws allowed 15 days for the study of the indictment and suggested that perhaps the defendants would decide to change their pleas or file some motions in the next 15 days.

Allen Krouse, of Washington, representing the Garssons, sought to obtain a delay in the trial beyond March 19.

He said that date might conflict with another case in which Charles J. Margiotti, chief counsel for the Garssons, is an attorney.

Laws suggested the other case might be postponed to accommodate the May-Garsson case.

All Are Fingerprinted

All four men were fingerprinted in the District building cell block before making bond.

May, first to finish the fingerprinting process, told the criminal court clerk where he was brought to make bond to hurry the process:

"My heart's hurting me — can I sign something and go to my hotel?"

Last summer, May was subpoenaed by a Senate Committee investigating his relations with the Garssons but did not appear. He sent word (Please turn to Page 2)

WILL OBSERVE 'YOUTH DAY'

In observance of Young People's Day in the Presbyterian church, eight young people of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church will conduct the morning worship service next Sunday morning. The theme for the service will be "Youth Shares."

Robert Gigous will lead in the call to worship and will give the invocation and lead the congregation in the Lord's Prayer. Walter Scott Mountain, III, will read the first 15 verses of the second chapter of II Timothy as the scripture lesson and prayer will be offered by Miss Helen Flohr, who also will receive the offering which will go to the Board of Christian Education of the church.

Four of the young people will give meditations on the service theme. Miss Marianne Bracey will speak on "Youth Shares the Christian Faith"; William Tipton on "Youth Shares Its Youth"; Stewart Klinefelter on "Youth Shares Its Friendship"; and Miss Doris Weaver on "Youth Shares the Christian Answer."

A responsive reading of a litany of dedication will be led by James Bracey. The service will conclude with the singing of the hymn "O Jesus, I Have Promised" and the benediction.

Weather Forecast

Increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight. Saturday cloudy, mild. May rain.

9 INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED BY GRAND JURY

The January grand jury, which worked until 6:25 p. m. Thursday to complete its deliberations, returned nine indictments involving eight individuals, and in two other cases presented for its consideration found "not a true bill."

Dr. Robert S. Lefever, 26 York street, was indicted on a charge of administering a drug with intent to commit a felony, and a second indictment was found charging him with three counts on morals charges.

The prosecutrix against Lefever was Mrs. Rita Dryer, Gettysburg, formerly of Providence, R. I., who alleges that the offenses charged took place in the doctor's office on the night of November 23. Lefever was arrested December 10, and held for court at a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore December 13. He was released in $2,500 bail.

Perjury Finding Impounded

A report of the grand jury investigation of a perjury charge brought by Dr. Lefever against Mrs. Dryer was impounded by the court when it was handed up to Judge Sheely. Addressing the members of the grand jury, Judge Sheely said:

"Your finding in the perjury case either way might tend to influence the petit jury in the trial of the other case," and he reminded the jurors of their oath and warned them not to divulge their findings in the Dryer case. The report will be impounded until after Dr. Lefever's trial, he said, to avoid any possible prejudice.

The trial term will open next Monday. District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., has not indicated on which day he will move the Lefever case.

Mrs. Dryer was charged with perjury by the doctor in a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on December 23, and she was arrested on that date. A hearing was held before Squire Snyder on December 26, at which decision was reserved. Additional testimony was presented on December 27, and Mrs. Dryer held for court. She was remanded to jail in lieu of $2,000 bail.

Mrs. Dryer was a witness before the grand jury for an hour and ten minutes Thursday morning, and was re-called in the afternoon, but was questioned for a shorter time. Then other witnesses paraded to the law library, where the grand jury was meeting. Among them were Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, Sgt. Christian H. Bumberger, state police laboratory technician, Harrisburg, and Freeman Ramer, a state police officer from Harrisburg in charge of the lie detector at state police headquarters.

Mrs. Dryer's husband, Charles Dryer, was in court during the early part of the afternoon. He left after the Lefever indictment had been reported. Dryer is living with a brother on a farm on the Pennsylvania-Maryland line between Harney and Littlestown.

Other Indictments

Witnesses in the perjury case, including Dr. Lefever, the prosecutrix; his father, Guile W. Lefever, and Miss Virginia Myers, a neighbor of the Lefevers who gave corroborative testimony at the hearing, were in the court room shortly after court re-convened at 1:30 p. m. awaiting their turn to be called before the grand jury. Mrs. Dryer was not present when the indictment against Lefever was reported.

Three other indictments were (Please Turn to Page Two)

Damage Suit Filed In County Courts

An action in trespass has been brought by Bernard E. Small, New Oxford, against LeRoy Shanebrook, Gettysburg R. 5, according to a complaint filed in the county prothonotary's office today.

Small is seeking damages as a result of an automobile accident September 1, 1946, one mile north of McSherrystown in Conewago township. Small alleges that Shanebrook was operating on the wrong side of the road when the two cars collided. He asks damages to his car, and reimbursement for loss of use of his car, loss of wages, hospital bills, and pain and suffering. Small claims he suffered lacerations and abrasions of the forehead and suffered nervous shock in the crash.

OPEN SALE FOR TEEN AGE DANCE HERE ON MONDAY

Plans for the "Teen age dance" to be held for the benefit of the Infantile Paralysis fund in the Hotel Gettysburg annex January 30 were completed Thursday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Youth Recreation committee at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Henry W. Garvin, was named chairman of a special committee in charge of the dance. Other members of the committee include M-Sgt. Raymond Strohman, William I. Shields, Paul Miller and Harry E. Bender.

Tickets to the dance will go on sale at 50 cents per person Monday, it was announced. The dance is being arranged to provide an evening's entertainment for the young people of the county and the college students and to provide them an opportunity of contributing to the Infantile Paralysis fund. All money from the tickets will be turned over to the paralytic fund the committee said. Use of the Hotel annex has been donated by Henry (Please turn to Page 2)

TEACHERS ASK $300 PAY RAISE

A request for a "high cost of living bonus" of $300 for each teacher and school employee of the Hanover school district was presented to the board of school directors Wednesday evening by a delegation representing the Hanover unit of the Pennsylvania State Education association.

There are approximately 100 teachers and other employees of the Hanover school district, which means that a $300 bonus for each would amount to a total of $30,000.

The board, through its president, L. B. Sheppard, assured the delegation that the directors will give the matter consideration. Budgetary and legal aspects of the issue must be explored, however, Mr. Sheppard pointed out.

The board president cited to the teachers' representatives the fact that the conduct of the school district is almost completely controlled by state laws — the Pennsylvania School Code, in particular.

Under those laws, the district must prepare its budget for a fiscal year in advance of the beginning of that year, on the first Monday of July. The current budget, adopted last May, made no provision for inclusion of a bonus in the salaries of district employees for the 1946-47 school year.

Trapp Family Singers, Ousted From Austria By Nazis, Offer Concert Here On February 4th

Seven sisters, a brother and their mother, all gifted with splendid singing voices and with talent as well in the playing of such rarely-heard ancient instruments as the recorder, spinet and viola da gamba, will present the second concert of the winter season under the auspices of the Gettysburg Concert association February 4 in Brua chapel.

The entertainers are the Trapp Family Singers who will present a concert of unusual old church and folk music of many lands. Baroness Maria Augusta von Trapp, her son Werner and her daughters, Johanna, Agathe, Hedwig, Maria, Martina, Rosemary and Eleanor, comprise this unique family group, which is under the conductorship and musical direction of the family's priest, the Rev. Dr. Franz Wasner.

On Long Tour

The appearance of the Trapp Family Singers here is one of more than 100 concerts being presented by the Baroness and her singing progeny in leading cities from coast to coast on the family's sixth trans-continental American tour. The family will appear in the colorful

TROOP ENROLLS NEW RECRUITS; IS COMMENDED

Adams county's troop A received praise from the commanding officer of the 104th Cavalry reconnaissance squadron and accepted its first enlisted men Thursday night.

Samuel T. Kessel, Gettysburg R. 3, who started out with the National Guard here in 1938 as a member of old Company E and who served with the 28th Division throughout the war, was the first man accepted for Company A. The other two accepted Thursday evening following physical examinations were Edward C. Thomas, Gettysburg R. 4, another former E company man here and Thomas Rankin Gossert, civilian guard at Camp Sharpe who was a squad leader in a rifle company during World War II.

Praises Local Troop

Lt. Col. Wayne W. Brame, Harrisburg, designated to command the new 104th Cavalry reconnaissance squadron, mechanized, remarked after visiting Troop A at the army Thursday night:

"I'm delighted with the display of interest, energy, and initiative shown by the officers and key enlisted men already lined up for the troop, and by the evidence of support from responsible citizens of Gettysburg and Adams county."

"With continuation of the good work already done, and with strong, active backing from the community, I am satisfied that Troop A will attain all the objectives set for it."

"I look forward to seeing Troop A develop into a top-notch outfit."

With Colonel Brame were Lt. Col. George H. Rumbaugh, inspector general of the 28th Infantry division staff at Harrisburg; Major Allen Crist, Assistant G-2, Intelligence officer of the division and a former, pre-war trooper in the 104th and Master Sergeant Ellsworth D. Price, of the Division Adjutant General's section.

Sign Two Cooks

The visiting officers congratulated the new National Guard troop on having a modern well-equipped armory at its disposal.

The troop's mess staff began to take shape Thursday night with two of the men accepted proving to be former cooks, one with the army and one with the navy.

Kessel, a staff sergeant during most of his army career, served as mess sergeant for company E and later served in the same capacity with the 103rd Quartermasters, 12th Infantry and 728th Ordnance in the 28th division during the war.

He served with Company E when it went to Indiantown Gap when the National Guard was called to active duty.

With the 28th he served in Louisiana, Florida and Virginia before (Please Turn to Page 2)

The seven-man court brushed aside the greying old diplomat's contention that he belongs in the French or British zones of occupation, not in the American zone, and proceeded with the trial of charges that Von Papen was a supporter of Adolf Hitler in the palmy days of the Nazi regime.

Conviction can mean 10 years at hard labor for the 69-year-old German diplomat, who once served as Hitler's vice chancellor.

The trial opened in the old municipal building a mile from the court house where he was acquitted of war crimes charges by the International Military Tribunal four months ago. Egon Kubuschok, who served as defense counsel for Von Papen in that trial, is acting in the same

80 PER CENT OF TOWN'S QUOTA RAISED IN DRIVE

Gettysburg's campaign to raise $8,212 toward the $100,000 Boy Scout camp fund reached the 80 per cent mark today with reports at a luncheon meeting of campaign managers and solicitors at the Hotel Gettysburg showing that the borough has already donated $6,058 toward the drive.

The Black Walnut district reports showed that the district has secured $7,545.25 or 65 per cent of its total. According to information available at noon today that percentage was the highest of all of the seven districts into which the York-Adams area is divided.

SIX HEARINGS HELD IN COURT; ACQUIT DRIVER

Robert G. Taylor, Biglerville, was found innocent of a charge of reckless driving in Adams County Court of Common Pleas this morning before Judge W. C. Sheely and Associate Judges J. Price Oyler and A. Dale Knouse. Costs of the action were placed on the county.

Two trucks, one driven by Taylor and the other by Samuel Hiesley, Biglerville, figured in a collision in Biglerville on December 18, 1946, according to the testimony, and State Police Officer James A. Treas laid the reckless driving charge against Taylor. Hiesley was charged before a justice of the peace with failing to keep to the right side of the highway, and the case had been previously disposed of.

The testimony was to the effect that Hiesley was driving his truck south and was about to turn into a driveway on his left when Taylor attempted to pass him. District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr. prosecuted the case and the defendant was represented by Attorney Eugene V. Bulleit.

Hear Support Cases

Herman E. Kuykendall, Gettysburg R. 3, was ordered to pay $12 a week for the support of his wife, Louise, and a child, as well as the costs of this action, following trial of a desertion and non-support charge brought by Mrs. Kuykendall. Edgar Little, Gettysburg, was directed to pay $12 a week for the support of his three children. His wife, Gail V. Little, brought a charge of desertion and non-support.

Following trial of a third desertion and non-support case, in which Aubrey Hinkle, East Berlin was defendant in an action brought by his wife, Ellen, Hinkle was ordered to pay $18 a week for the support of his wife and two children. Costs were placed on the defendant in these three cases.

Two Cases Finished

The case of John D. Bloom, Chairman, charged by Helen Thomas with a statutory offense, was settled when the defendant agreed to pay expenses and costs of the action. An indictment against Bloom had been returned Thursday.

A petition brought by Mrs. Frances Strausbaugh, Iron Springs, against her husband for an alleged arrearage in support payments was ordered dismissed by the court upon payment by Strausbaugh of $40.

Nine accounts were confirmed and three were passed.

J. Kermit Hereter And Mrs. Willis L. Weikert Seriously Hurt In Crash

Seven persons were injured, at least three of them seriously, when two cars collided headon at the dangerous Eichelberger curve, two miles south of Lemoyne, on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg highway this morning at 1:15 o'clock.

One car, operated by Willis L. Weikert, 37, 20 Seminary avenue, was headed toward Gettysburg on the main highway when it was struck by a heavy sedan said by police to have been driven at a high speed out the Shiremanstown road by David R. Rakestraw, 38, Mechanicsburg.

Rakestraw has been charged with drunken driving by state police from Harrisburg who investigated the accident.

Two Seriously Injured

Seriously injured are:

J. Kermit Hereter, aged about 42, Howard street, occupant of the Weikert car and now a patient in the Harrisburg General hospital with a fracture of the skull, a back injury and numerous lacerations. His condition is described as "not satisfactory."

Mrs. Sara Weikert, wife of the driver, also a patient in the Harrisburg hospital, is suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, a dislocation of the left hip, a possible fracture of the right wrist and multiple lacerations. Her condition also is "not satisfactory."

Mr. Weikert, the driver, who is in the same hospital, suffered a fracture of the right knee, fractures of the fourth and fifth ribs and lacerations of the hands and face. His condition is "satisfactory."

HIT-RUN DRIVER PAYS $10 FINE

Borough and state police who sought unsuccessfully Thursday to discover the identity of the motorist who struck a pole and three mail boxes on Steinwehr avenue early Thursday morning, "got their man" when Andrew J. Jackson, Jr., Waterbury, Conn., a student at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, came to state police headquarters shortly after noon Thursday to make out a report of the accident.

Jackson and two companions started to tell State Policemen James Treas about the accident. Treas was one of the officers who was looking for the car after the accident had been reported by a neighbor. Jackson was sent to borough police headquarters, where he was charged with reckless driving. He was taken before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, and fined $10 and costs.

Police said the car operated by Jackson was driven away after striking the pole and mail boxes, but that it was towed back to Gettysburg Thursday to a local garage for repairs. They estimated the damage to the car at $850.

Two Couples Are Licensed To Wed

Marriage licenses were issued today at the court house to: George Calvin Gladhill, son of Roy D. Gladhill, Gettysburg R. 5, and Mary Elizabeth Benner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Benner, Gettysburg R. 1.

Charles Nunzio Arigo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent A. Arigo, Hanover, and Jean Marie Conrad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Conrad, McSherrystown.

Germans Try Von Papen For Supporting Hitler-Nazi Reign

Nuernberg, Jan. 24 (AP)—Franz von Papen went on trial before a German de-Nazification court today after unsuccessfully challenging the Bavarian tribunal's right to hear the case.

The seven-man court brushed aside the greying old diplomat's contention that he belongs in the French or British zones of occupation, not in the American zone, and proceeded with the trial of charges that Von Papen was a supporter of Adolf Hitler in the palmy days of the Nazi regime.

Conviction can mean 10 years at hard labor for the 69-year-old German diplomat, who once served as Hitler's vice chancellor.

The trial opened in the old municipal building a mile from the court house where he was acquitted of war crimes charges by the International Military Tribunal four months ago. Egon Kubuschok, who served as defense counsel for Von Papen in that trial, is acting in the same capacity again, with Von Papen's son. The courtroom's 200 seats were occupied mostly by grim-faced Bavarians, who traditionally have little love for Prussians.

Frau von Papen and her three daughters also were in the audience.

Public Prosecutor Werner Fiebig told the court that he intended to prove that:

1. Von Papen helped Hitler to power and "sustained Nazism financially and politically."

2. Von Papen, as creator of Hitler's first cabinet, promised the fuhrer he would dissolve the Reichstag and lift the ban against the wearing of the uniform by storm troopers.

3. Von Papen dismissed 24 high administrative officials because they opposed the Nazis.

4. Von Papen "undermined" Kurt Schuschnigg's Austrian government and thus paved the way for Anschluss.

PROSECUTION
TRIAL OF TOJO

Tokyo, Jan. 24 (AP) — The prosecution today rested its case against former Premier Tojo and 25 other wartime Japanese leaders in a dramatic race against the clock.

Today's was the 160th session of the International War Crimes Tribunal which began hearing the case April 29.

At 1:55 p. m., Associate Prosecutor A. Comyns Carr of Britain paused while racing through a document and informed the judges he could finish in a comparatively short time. He requested permission to continue past the usual 4 o'clock adjournment.

25 Defendants

The judges assented and at 4:10 p. m., acting chief prosecutor Carlisle W. Higgins of the United States announced "the prosecution has concluded."

Only 25 of the original 28 defendants were in court. Former Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuo and Admiral Osami Nagano, chief of the Navy general staff at the time of Pearl Harbor, died since the trial opened. Dr. Shumei Okawa, a propagandist, was declared insane and confined to a hospital. Okawa however is being tried in absentia on the possibility he later might be announced sane.

The trial record totals more than 4,000,000 words.

The defense Monday will present a motion for dismissal. If that is denied, the tribunal has promised the defense a two week adjournment to prepare its case.

Andrew J. May,

he was ill and his physician said he had suffered a heart attack.

May told an Associated Press reporter who accompanied him from Charlottesville, Va.:

"I am not guilty of any wrong doing either legally or morally."

"I have returned to Washington voluntarily and less than 24 hours after the indictment was returned. I will request an early trial and I am confident that an impartial jury will clear me."

The indictments were handed down by a grand jury which had been working on the case since last October.

Fraud Conspiracy

May declared before boarding the train that he was innocent, would ask for a quick trial and would "completely vindicate myself" of the charge that he agreed to accept $53,634.07 from his co-defendants for services rendered.

To a reporter who spotted him in downtown Washington last night, Murray Garson protested:

"All our efforts were lent in winning the war and we did nothing wrong. We made a marvelous contribution to the war effort and saved the government hundred of millions of dollars."

The grand jury charged the Garsons and Freeman conspired to buy May's influence with army officials and War Department civilian employees to further the interests of their corporations.

It said they used money to obtain May's pressure on the War Department to give commissions, promotions and furloughs to their relatives.

Milk Production Is Near Month's Record

Harrisburg, Jan. 24 (AP)—Pennsylvania's milk production last month totaled 379,000,000 pounds, second highest December production ever known in the state, the state Agriculture Department said today.

A report said heavy feeding and a near-record high output per cow advanced milk production in December two per cent above November and six per cent higher than for the same month a year earlier.

Meanwhile, a new all-time state record production of more than 2,750,000,000 eggs was attained in 1946, with the output averaging 23.3 dozens per person for the population in the state.

Patient's Death
Not Due To Blow

Philadelphia, Jan. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Emily Carey, 26-year-old wife of a GI now in Europe, died of liver trouble, an autopsy disclosed.

Dr. J. Allan Bertolo, coroner, says Mrs. Carey, who died last Tuesday, had accused a hospital orderly of striking her with a wine bottle. The autopsy report said a head blow Mrs. Carey received did not directly cause her death.

The orderly is free in $5,000 bail pending a hearing on the assault and battery charge.

SEEK PAY RAISE

Philadelphia, Jan. 24 (AP)—Some 15,000 workers in the Ladies' Garment Industry here, represented by the AFL-International Ladies' Garment workers, are seeking a 20 per cent wage increase.

Harry W. Zechman, pastor of Derry Street Evangelical United Brethren Church, officiating. Burial in Rolling Green cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Copecki, Bainbridge; two brothers, Ernest Plank, Gettysburg R. D., and Raymond Plank, Pleasant Hill, Md.; a step-brother, William Plank, Des Moines, Iowa; a sister, Mrs. Ada Smith, Gettysburg, and a grandson.

HEAD OF IBRD
DIES SUDDENLY

Washington, Jan. 24 (AP)—The unexpected death of Harold D. Smith, vice president of the World Bank, leaving that global reconstruction agency leaderless again today, presumably will spur the search for a new president.

Smith, former United States budget director, was stricken suddenly by a heart attack late yesterday at his farm home near Culpeper, Va. He was 48 years old.

He had been serving as chief executive of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development since December 18, when President Eugene Meyer resigned. Smith resigned, too, but agreed to stay on until the bank's directors elected a new president.

Coincidentally with Smith's death—which came so suddenly that medical aid was not at hand—a bank official indicated privately that the wide-ranging search for a president may be nearing an end. The selection is "under active consideration" at this moment, he told a reporter, and the directors hope for an early decision.

President Truman, terming Smith "one of the ablest servants in the public service," said he was "terribly shocked."

Smith had been treated for a heart condition about a year ago, when he was budget director. He left that $10,000 post last summer, saying he could "not afford" to pass up the bank position with its $22,500 salary, taxes on which are paid by the bank.

A former director of Michigan's State budget, he joined the Budget Bureau in 1939. He was born June 6, 1898, in Lawrence, Kansas.

of $375. The quota for Orrtanna is $350.

Bendersville's reports showed that the Bendersville-Aspers district has given $633.75, or 22.9 per cent of its quota of $295.

McSherrystown is another county town to go over the top, according to the reports, with a total of $254 or 100.2 per cent of its goal.

Gettysburg Figures

Black Walnut district reports disclosed that Ardentsville has $35 collected; Cashtown, $195 or 97.5 per cent or 36.8 percent of its quota; Ida-or 36.8 per cent of its quota; Ida-ville, $143 or 40 per cent.

Reports by Gettysburg chairmen at noon today disclosed that a total of $1,340.50 has been collected by the bankers and merchants committee headed by E. W. Thomas; $2,615 by the industrial committee of which M. C. Jones is chairman; $1,250 by the organizations committee headed by Henry M. Scharf and $852.50 by the general solicitation committee of which the Rev. Robert Hunt is chairman.

L. S. Erickson, York, an area chairman of the drive, told the group that the Black Walnut district has the best chance to go over the top during the coming week of any seven districts, according to the reports presented today.

The next report meeting of the Black Walnut district will be held next Thursday at noon at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Judge Decides Love
Must Wait For Year

Philadelphia, Jan. 24 (AP)—Love was in the heart of Joseph T. Clancy, he told U. S. District Judge J. Cullen Ganey.

He didn't want to go to jail, Clancy said.

He wanted to get married.

What's more, Clancy told the jurist he was sure that a wife would help him abandon a career that has kept him in jail 27 of his 42 years.

"He's a con man and he's connin' this court right now," broke in U. S. Attorney James P. McCormick.

Clancy was up for sentencing following conviction on charges of stealing 731 gas ration stamps.

Marriage can wait, said the judge—"a year and a day."

A total of 75,562 slot machines in the United States were reported in 1945.

Both New Jersey and Rhode Island call the violet their state flower.

GEORGIA BANK
SEEKS ANSWER
ON GOVERNORS

Atlanta, Jan. 24 (AP)—Uncertain over the release of executive funds it has on deposit, an Atlanta bank moved today to institute court action to adjudicate Georgia's gubernatorial squabble which has tied up state revenues.

The Fulton National bank announced it would refuse to honor checks drawn by either claimant to the office, Herman Talmadge or M. E. Thompson.

Former Gov. Ellis Arnall had control of the fund of about $97,000 when he resigned last Saturday. He turned it over to Thompson when the latter was sworn in as lieutenant governor and became a claimant to executive authority as acting governor.

Talmadge, elected by the Legislature, has made no public move to gain control of the fund but said yesterday he would hold its custody in time to meet his February 1 payroll.

Meanwhile, state treasurer George B. Hamilton declared he had stopped disbursement of funds to the highway and revenue departments and the acceptance of tax collections from the revenue commission because of the legal tangles over conflicting appointments by Talmadge and Thompson to fill the same offices.

There was no immediate effect on the two departments but fiscal officials said any lengthy tie-up would cripple them and spread quickly to other state agencies.

QUADS' FATHER
HAS PROBLEMS

Philadelphia, Jan. 24 (AP)—Joseph Cirminello, father of two-year-old quadriplets, had a furrowed brow today over the rather universal problem—housing.

One of about 900 employees of the Securities and Exchange Commission who were told of that agency's impending return to Washington, Cirminello said he was worried more about the house he'd have to buy, rent or lease.

The Cirminellos and their three daughters and a son who were born in Philadelphia November 1, 1944, now live in a four-bedroom home in nearby Broomall. The SEC analyst went out and bought it shortly after the quads were born.

"If we move to Washington," Cirminello mused, "we'll have to have a house with nothing less than four bedrooms and one of the rooms must be large enough to house four good sized cribs, four tables, four portable bathtubs and one dresser."

Cirminello, employed by the SEC for the last ten years, came to Philadelphia with his wife in 1942 when the agency was crowded out of Washington by an influx of war-born agencies.

'Ike' Smpatic On Housing For Vets

New York, Jan. 24 (AP)—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower raised his voice to a shout when he told the bond club of New York that "any county which can pour out all that we did in this war can build enough houses to take care of the veterans who went overseas to fight it!"

Discussion of housing arose during a question period following the chief of staff's address to the club last night.

"Take it (housing) to your hearts," Eisenhower said. "See what you can do about it without waiting for Washington to do it."

Wants 'Little Fellow'
To Enjoy Tax Cut

Washington, Jan. 24 (AP)—Rep. Engel (R-Mich.) said today he plans to fight the bill by Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) proposing a 20 per cent cut in individual income levies.

"That bill does not help the little fellow much," Engel told reporters. "If we can reduce taxes I want to give the most relief to the low income groups."

The Michigan lawmaker denied that the Republican party, "as some people claim," had made any election promise to cut taxes 20 per cent "across the board." The Michigan Republican introduced his own bill shortly after Knutson's, proposing to raise the present $500 individual tax exemption to $1,000 a year.

He said today that if this measure would trim revenue below levels needed for budget balancing and debt retirement, he would favor limiting the reductions to persons with income below $5,000.

Attorney's Body
Found Near Tracks

Huntingdon, Pa., Jan. 24 (AP)—The body of J. Keith Harrison, High Point, N. C., attorney, was found yesterday along the right-of-way of the Pennsylvania railroad near Petersburg, in Huntingdon county.

Coroner Blair Shore said the man had died of a fractured skull and presumably fell off an eastbound pullman car. Harrison had been in Pittsburgh on business and was enroute to Washington, D. C., where he had planned to take a plane to West Palm Beach, Fla., and join his wife and daughter.

Upper Communities

Mrs. Oscar C. Rise entertained the members of the LLL club Wednesday afternoon at her home in Biglerville. The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. F. Walter Wright.

Miss Ann Tilton, a student at the Rhode Island School of Design, Providence, is spending a week's mid-semester recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tilton, Flora Dale.

Miss Barbara Kleinfelter, who is a student at Lebanon Valley college, Annville, will arrive this evening to spend a mid-semester recess with her parents, Mr. and Lloyd W. Kleinfelter, of Biglerville.

Sunday school will be held at 9:30 Sunday morning at the Biglerville United Brethren church and will be followed by the regular church service at 10:30 o'clock with the Rev. LaVerne Rohrbaugh in the pulpit.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pitzer, of Aspers, are on a trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryland Garrettson and Mr. and Mrs. George Schriver, of Bendersville, returned Thursday evening from a four weeks' motor trip to the west coast.

Miss Louise Jones, Richmond, Va., spent the week-end as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Thomas, Ardentsville. She was accompanied to Richmond Sunday evening by Francis, Jr., Thomas, the Misses Ruth and Grace Anna Thomas and Jay Thomas.

More Spring-Like
Weather Promised

(By The Associated Press)

Another day of near spring-like weather was promised today for the normally cold-in-January section of the country.

Temperatures throughout the Mississippi Valley and the plains states were far above normal yesterday, ranging from the middle forties in Montana and North Dakota to the middle and upper fifties over a large part of the midwest and the southeastern states.

Yesterday the mercury touched 64 above in Lincoln, Nebr., as compared to 61 at Jacksonville, Fla. Miami, Fla., and Yuma, Ariz., were the two warmest cities with 74.

Coldest spot on the federal weather bureau's map today was Greenville, Me., where the temperature dropped to 14 below zero.

LARAIN WINS
DELAY IN CASE

Los Angeles, Jan. 24 (AP)—Film Actress Laraine Day, the bride of baseball's Leo Durocher, has won a temporary delay from a judge's decision that she should be compelled to show cause why her California divorce decree of last Monday should not be set aside.

Through her attorneys Miss Day said she does not want to "flout the judgement and dignity of the California courts," and Judge George A. Dockweiler acceded to pleas of her lawyers that time be allowed to investigate the facts and law in the tangled case.

The judge was irked by Miss Day's actions in obtaining a Juarez, Mexico, divorce Tuesday from J. Ray Hendricks, airport executive, after she had already obtained a California interlocutory divorce decree in his court the day before. California law requires a year's wait before a divorce becomes final.

The 26-year-old actress married Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, in El Paso just after getting the Mexican divorce.

Postmistress Is Guilty Of Fraud

Lewisburg, Pa., Jan. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Benner Runkle, former Giron (Union county) postmistress, was convicted in federal court yesterday on one count of a charge of attempting to defraud Sears, Roebuck, and Co., by returning merchandise for refund checks.

The court dismissed four other counts against Mrs. Runkle and Judge Frederick V. Pollmer said he would defer sentence until he had an opportunity of studying her previous record.

FULKS ADDS POINT

New York, Jan. 24 (AP)—Joe Fulks, the glamour boy of the hardwood, is far ahead in the individual scoring race in the Basketball Association of America today with 779 points in 32 games—a 24 point average—following his 28 point total last night which sparked his Philadelphia mates to an 83-78 overtime victory over the Cleveland Rebels.

GOES SHOPPING-MAKES A SALE

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 21 (AP)—A student at North Dakota State college found that his G. I. allowance wasn't quite enough, so he went "window shopping" for a part-time job.

Last week after looking in the windows of Fargo department stores, he introduced himself to the manager of one concern, and said:

"Your store has the poorest looking windows in town."

Now the student has a job—instructing the store personnel in window decorating.

9 INDICTMENTS

handed up to Judge Sheely and Associate Judges A. Dale Knouse and J. Price Oyster in a partial report during the afternoon. The grand jury found true bills against Ellis Wagaman, Fayetteville R. D., and John D. Bloom, Charnian, on morals charges and against John L. Spiling, Hanover, on a charge of failing to stop at the scene of an accident.

Other indictments reported shortly before 6:30 p. m. were:

Howard E. Leatherman, Gettysburg R. 3, larceny, involving the theft of the pocketbook and $150 from Ruth L. Reaver, Gettysburg.

Ignore Indecency Charges

Paul L. Cartwright, Biglerville R. 1, larceny; George W. Deatrick, Gettysburg operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor; Paul John March, East Berlin, arson.

The grand jury found "not a true bill" in two other charges preferred against Leatherman, larceny from the person and larceny, which involved the alleged theft of a watch, and a no bill in the case of Amos Baker, Gettysburg R. 2, and Mrs. John Miller, Gettysburg R. 4, who were charged with public indecency. The costs in both cases were placed on the county.

Because of the lateness of the hour when the grand jury completed its deliberations, visits to the county institutions were omitted. Judge Sheely expressed his thanks to the jurors for remaining and completing their investigations in a single day. The county treasurer's office remained open to issue the jurors their pay after they had been excused by the court.

Miller, McSherrystown Knights of Columbus council, McSherrystown Moose, Middleburg Manufacturing company and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Smith.

TROOP ENROLLS

the division embarked for Wales in 1943.

Continue Recruiting

Then followed service in England ending shortly after D-day when Kessel's outfit went to France. There was time out for the liberation parade in Paris and then Kessel continued with his outfit through Luxembourg, Belgium and Germany. He was discharged in September 1945.

The other cook is Edward Thomas, one-time E company member and who served a hitch in the army prior to the war. During World War II he was in the Navy as a cook and baker.

A new officer was added to the Troop A roster Thursday, Second Lieutenant James Wiser, North Washington street, who received his commission on the field during World War II.

Applications and physical examinations of all of the officers of the troop were completed Thursday night.

The officers and men will continue their recruiting drive tonight in New Oxford at 7:30 o'clock at Weaver's News stand. On Saturday night the troop officials will be at the Philip Bikle Insurance office, Baltimore street, after 7:30 o'clock to meet with those interested in the troop.

BULLETINS

Washington, Jan. 24 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Philip Fleming, director of the Office of Temporary Controls, said today he has instructed regional OPA offices to "liberalize" rents in "hardship cases."

London, Jan. 24 (AP)—Austrian Foreign Minister Karl Gruber said today his country would be unable to pay reparations to anyone. Gruber told a news conference that if Austria was to be the free and independent nation advocated in the Moscow declaration, "the conditions making freedom and independence possible must be provided."

Harrisburg, Jan. 24 (AP)—Claims of Pennsylvania, soft coal miners to unemployment compensation benefits totaling $4,000,000 in a 1945 work stoppage were rejected today by the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review.

QUICK RESCUE

Seattle, Wash., (AP)—Firemen, responding to a call to rescue David Wynan, Jr., 2, from a locked bathroom met the youngster and his mother on the porch.

The embarrassed parent explained David unlocked the door and headed outside on the run when he heard the siren of the approaching truck.

W. MD. QUINTET FACES BULLETS HERE SATURDAY

Victory No. 5 will be the goal of the Gettysburg college cagers when they tangle with Western Maryland college in the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium Saturday evening.

To date the Bullets boast wins over Lebanon Valley, Juniata, Lehigh and Franklin and Marshall while losses have been sustained at the hands of LaSalle, Dickinson, Navy, Lafayette and Penn.

Coach "Hen" Bream's team, after a slip-shot start, hit their stride against the powerful Lafayette team and despite losing by three points, gave by far their best performance to that date. After upsetting F. and M. on Monday the Bullets bowed to the strong Penn team at Philadelphia Wednesday evening but again looked good in defeat.

If the Bullets continue to play the brand of ball they have shown in their last three games they are certain to give their future opponents busy evenings.

Terrors Impressive
Western Maryland is one of the top-ranking teams in the Mason-Dixon conference. Its most recent victory was a 61-42 decision over Gallaudet.

The Terrors are expected to furnish the locals keen opposition. Starters for the visitors will probably include Wallace and Sibiski, forwards; Zlonkev, center, and Thompson and Stephenson, guards. All have been scoring heavily in recent games.

The undefeated Bullet reserves will go after their fifth straight win when they meet the Western Maryland scrubs in the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

SWEDE MEETS ACE RUNNERS

Philadelphia, Jan. 24 (AP)—Major 1947 mile competition gets off to a fast start tonight with Rune Gustafsson, Sweden's ace distance runner, challenging the American supremacy of Les MacMillan.

The 27-year-old Swedish policeman will be making his first start on a U. S. oval in the main attraction—the mile—of the third annual Philadelphia Inquirer invitation track meet at Convention Hall.

Tonight's carnival tops a week-end of big track doings. At West Point, N. Y., tomorrow afternoon, the U. S. Military Academy plays host at its annual relays, while in Boston—the same evening—is the Massachusetts Knights of Columbus meet.

The Inquirer mile will be MacMillan's first crack at that distance this season. Les, running badly, was fourth in the 1,000-meter race at the Metropolitan AAU championships in New York last Saturday.

However, it was the New York Athletic club star's victory in last year's Inquirer event that started him off on a string of six straight mile victories and he's hoping to use the Philadelphia mile as a springboard again.

NEW DEMAND FOR PROBE OF PIAA

Patton, Pa., Jan. 24 (AP)—A Cambria county state Senator today worked on a new resolution calling on the General Assembly to investigate the Pennsylvania interscholastic athletic association.

He is Senator John J. Haluska, Democrat, who said he would introduce his proposal Monday. The House already has before it a resolution offered by Rep. David H. Weiss (D-Westmoreland) which asks the State Department of Public Instruction to probe what he termed the PIAA's "autocratic, high-handed, and arbitrary" actions.

Senator Haluska said his probe of the PIAA would determine "who it is, what it is and why it should have jurisdiction." He also declared: "if there is need for such an organization I will ask that it be in the State Department of Public Instruction."

Meanwhile, at Erie, a PIAA district official disclosed that differences in Pennsylvania's and Ohio's athletic codes probably would halt interscholastic competition between schools of the two states next year.

Maroons Play At Waynesboro Tonight

Gettysburg high's courtmen face a "must" game tonight when they battle the Waynesboro high outfit at Waynesboro in a South Penn league contest.

The Maroons must win this game if they are to remain in the running for the first half title of the loop. Waynesboro, much improved in recent games, should prove a stiff opponent.

The Jayvee teams will clash at 7 o'clock.

In other loop tilts tonight Shippensburg plays at Chambersburg, Hershey at Hanover, and Mechanicsburg at Carlisle.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Jan. 24 (AP)—You've heard a lot about star baseball players who had difficulty coming back after war service, or couldn't make it at all. . . . This year you may be hearing about kids who grew up in service and now are ready for the big leagues. . . . There's Cincinnati's Grady Hatton, for instance, who made good last year without the benefit of minor league training.

And Clint Hartung, who is coming to the Giants hailed as a combination of Paul Bunyan, Superman and Mysterious Montague. . . . Another is the Cubs' Henry Schenz, who was a 246 hitter at Portsmouth, Va., before the war. . . . After three years in the navy, he joined Tusculum last and hit .333. He also belted 44 doubles and drove in 104 runs to lead the Texas league in both departments and struck out only 23 times in 596 actual trips to the plate. . . . The 1947 rookie crop likely will include a lot of others who developed the same way.

THEY CAN'T MICH
One sure prediction for 1947 is that a Michigan man will win the Big Three basketball title—as coach, that is. . . . Yale's Ivy Williamson, Princeton's Franklin (Cappy) Cappon and Harvard's Al Barclay all are U. of Michigan graduates.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Pete Montesi, who lost an arm and a leg fighting in Europe with the Fourth Armored Division, celebrates his first anniversary as a boxing promoter at Danbury, Conn., tonight by staging his 15th fight program. Part of the proceeds will go to the Infantile Paralysis Fund. . . . Attendance for 20 basketball double-headers at Madison Square Garden already has gone past last season's regular-schedule total of 21 bills.

Coach Leo Novak's estimate of Army's track prospects: "If we could get back some of those boys who were fighting for three or four years, we might be even with the 24 and 25 years olds. . . . The trotting horse folks who winter at Orlando, Fla., say the hottest thing there is the gin rummy tussle between Ben White and Bill Strang.

Hershey Battles
Rambles To Tie

(By The Associated Press)
The high scoring Indianapolis Capitals missed an opportunity to move back into a deadlock with the Cleveland Barons for the Western Division leadership of the American Hockey league last night.

Trailing the idle Barons by two points, the Caps bowed, 5-4 to the Springfield Indians after twice coming from behind to tie the score.

In the only other game, the pace-setting Eastern Division Hershey Bears and the runner-up New Haven Ramblers battled to a 3-3 tie.

GREAT POWERS FOR BERT BELL

Chicago, Jan. 24 (AP)—National Football league club owners started sparring on the 1947 playing schedule today after empowering Commissioner Bert Bell with dictatorial authority to combat the gambling peril which the owners said was menacing sports.

In their initial session, delegates of the 10-member league shoved all other matters aside and unanimously gave Bell the power to exile for life anyone connected with the league who becomes involved with gamblers.

The constitutional amendment provides that he can banish any player, official or employee:

(1) Who fails to report knowledge of a bribe offer, or

(2) Who received an offer directly or indirectly by insinuation or implication to control or fix or accept or bet anything of value on a professional game in any manner whatsoever.

Furthermore, the amendment provides that any such knowledge by a player should be reported at once to his coach; any club officials having such knowledge of a gambling tieup must report it at once to Bell himself.

Violations may be punished by Bell by (1) indefinite suspension; (2) suspension for a specified time; (3) banishment for life; (4) a fine of not more than $2,000; (5) forced sale of stock held by the guilty party within 30 days.

Arendtsville Cagers Top League Scoring

The two forwards and the center of Arendtsville high school's unbeaten basketball team held three of the first four positions in the individual scoring race in the Adams county league.

Singley and J. Allison are tied for the lead with 62 points, with Littlestown's Schwartz close behind with 59. Spence, of Arendtsville high school, has 43 while Noel Hefelinger, of Boiling Springs, rounds out the first five with 40 counters.

The scoring leaders are as follows:

	G.	F.	Pts.
Singley, Arendtsville	4	23	162
J. Allison, Arendtsville	4	28	62
Schwartz, Littlestown	4	28	59

League Members To Visit Local Campus

To gain a practical and life-like perspective of the subject, "Christianity and Architecture," which is the theme of the discussion for this Sunday's meeting of the St. John's Young People's Luther League, Hagerstown, plans have been formulated for a trip to Gettysburg college.

Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, cars will leave the church. After arrival at the campus, the seminary and the college buildings, as well as the college chapel, will be points of interest for visitation. The chapel, which will be the focal point of discussion and observation, was completed in 1942. Named the Church of the Abiding Presence, the architecture of the building and its features all are designed to carry out the theme which the name implies.

Highway Dept. To Seek Free Bridges

Harrisburg, Jan. 24 (AP)—Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock said Thursday his department will continue to support the long fight to buy and free Pennsylvania's 10 remaining privately operated toll bridges.

"I favor the State's purchase of the spans and have offered my department's help in the matter," Smock told a reporter.

Reappointed highways secretary by Governor James H. Duff, Smock disclosed he already is working on the next move with Sen. George Wade (R-Cumberland), co-sponsor with Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor of toll bridge legislation.

He said, however, final decisions rested with the justice department on legal questions raised as a result of a State Supreme court ruling invalidating the 1945 Wade-Taylor laws which appropriated $7,000,000 from the motor fund for purchase of the spans.

COURT REFUSES CARR DIVORCE

Elizabeth, N. J., Jan. 24 (AP)—Advisory master Nicholas A. Tomasulo has rejected the divorce petition of 75-year-old J. Clarence Carr on the grounds that his marriage to Amelia Carr, 66-year-old convicted swindler, was of a "companionate nature rather than a physical one."

Tomasulo said Wednesday in denying the application that because of the nature of the marriage and the fact that Carr continued to visit his wife daily in Clinton reformatory, where she is serving an eight to ten year sentence for fraud, "the petitioner's conduct amounted to continuation of marital status."

The advisory master added that Mrs. Carr's attorney, Martin G. Bros, Jr., had shown that after her arrest in 1941, she resided with her husband for four days after being released in bail "which the petitioner had supplied."

Carr, a socially prominent Newark real estate man, had contended that his wife fraudulently posed as a wealthy widow at the time of their marriage, and had concealed from him her past record.

David E. Bernstein, Carr's counsel, introduced evidence showing that Mrs. Carr had a record of 20 arrests dating back to 1891. Her criminal record earned her the title of "petticoat Ponzi."

The record disclosed that she served prison terms in New Jersey, Pittsburgh, Walla Walla, Spokane and Tehachapachie, Calif.

State C. Of C. Hits Federal Spending

Harrisburg, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce renewed its demand today for a federal budget of $25,000,000 in place of the $37,500,000,000 proposed by President Truman.

Characterizing the Truman budget as another evidence of the "habit of free spending" in Washington, the State Chamber said in letters to Pennsylvania Congressmen the budget provides "for the virtual retention of the present huge federal civilian bureaucracy."

"It goes so far as to request the removal of the personnel ceilings which Congress imposed last year in an effort to force a systematic reduction of unnecessary employees," the chamber continued. "A saving of at least $3,000,000 annually would occur if a million federal jobholders were removed from the payrolls."

The organization coupled a recommendation for immediate income tax reductions of 20 per cent for individuals and 15 per cent for corporations with its stand on budget slashing.

NEW SENATOR OFFERS NOVEL BILL ON LABOR

By MAX HALL

Washington, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Senate Labor committee got a new bill today to study during its five weeks of hearings a closed shop measure with novel features written by Freshman Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.).

McCarthy, who announced the proposal in general terms last week, completed the bill today, handed it to reporters and said he would introduce it in the Senate this afternoon.

Proposing amendments to the Wagner Labor Relations Act, the bill among other things would grant employers the right to state opinions frankly to their workers on all labor questions so long as no threat of force was involved.

"Closed Shop" Plan

The bill would leave "preferential hiring" and "maintenance of membership" as matters to be decided in collective bargaining, as at present.

But the "union shop" and "closed shop" would be taken out of the realm of bargaining, and each would depend entirely—in any plant—on whether two-thirds of the employees want it. A bill by Senator Ball (R-Minn.), already before the committee, would outlaw all four of these forms of "union security."

The committee, after starting its hearings yesterday, called a recess until Tuesday morning, when Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach is scheduled to testify. A cold prevented his scheduled first-day appearance.

'47 RR Income To Be Less Than In '29

Philadelphia, Jan. 24 (AP)—The net railway operating income in 1947 "is going to be about 38 per cent less than it was in 1929," says a Baltimore and Ohio railroad vice president, despite recent rate increases.

Edwin H. Burgess, who is also general counsel for the B. and O., also told the Port of Philadelphia Maritime Society yesterday that anti-trust action by the U. S. Justice Dept. to upset the present conference method of determining rail rates could result in "commercial chaos."

"The times are, if anything, more critical for private enterprise in transportation, especially in railroading, than for the other segments of economy," he declared.

Burgess made his net income decline prediction despite facts that "the railroad plant today has in it about two billion dollars more of invested capital than it had in 1929, and in 1947 will have to haul a freight volume 50 per cent greater and a passenger volume 100 per cent greater than it hauled in 1929."

BLACKOUT

Vancouver, (AP)—The Vancouver Housing Authority has declared its tenants can buy coal or sit in the dark. Originally, the war-built housing projects furnished coal for heating. But last year the authority decided tenants should buy their own coal. Electricity, however, is included in the rent, and the houses have no meters. So many tenants, officials said, simply stopped using coal, bought electric heaters and let them and ovens run constantly. The power load got so heavy three transformers burned out last week. So from now on stations will use smaller fuses, and if tenants use too much electricity they'll be left in darkness.

New Pastor Installed: Five ministers participated in the installation service for the Rev. Frederick B. Crane, new pastor at the Gettysburg Presbyterian church.

Ministers who assisted include the Rev. Mr. Crane's father, the Rev. W. S. Crane, of Dryden, New York; the Rev. R. H. Taylor, of Hershey, moderator of the Carlisle Presbytery; the Rev. Dr. Glenn M. Shafer, Carlisle; the Rev. Melvin W. Riddle, Chambersburg; and the Rev. J. M. Davies, Hunterstown.

After the services, a reception was held in the social rooms of the church.

Couple Is Married: Miss Nellie May Barger and William A. Rinehart, both of Chambersburg, were married Tuesday by the Rev. A. P. Frantz, superintendent of the Hoffman orphanage, at the orphanage.

Local Girl Weds Saturday Afternoon: Miss Eloise Klinefelter, daughter of Martin W. Klinefelter, York street, and Herbert Carter Riggs, of Gettysburg, son of Irving Riggs, New York city, were married Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock in Winchester, Virginia, by the Rev. Luther Thomas, pastor of the Lutheran church. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Spahr and Mr. and Mrs. Martin C. Shealer, of Gettysburg.

The couple expect to move to New York city within a few weeks.

John Knox Is Elected Head of Supervisors: John Knox, Cumberland township, was elected president of the Adams county township supervisors' association at the fourteenth annual convention at the court house, Thursday. He succeeds William H. Arnold, who served for three years.

Other officers chosen include Mr. Arnold, first vice president; Irvin Robert, second vice president; P. A. T. Bower, secretary, and J. Vance Stitzel, treasurer.

President Knox was elected a delegate to the state convention for three years; H. J. Sneiderling, delegate for two years, and Harvey Spangler delegate for one year. Clayton Starnier, H. T. Brown and Albert Duncan, alternates.

Speakers at the afternoon session were State Senator C. H. Clippinger, of the Adams-Franklin district; C. D. Felton, of the state Highway Department, Eugene Lawrence and John H. Stock.

Win Poultry Awards: Dr. Walter H. Danforth, Gettysburg, and George L. Raubenstein, New Oxford, were among the winners of poultry awards at the state farm products show at Harrisburg.

Today's Talk

Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow

We look upon a stream and it seems the same all the time that we are looking at it — but, as a matter of fact, it is never the same. Each foot of flow is new and different. It is much the same in our lives. We live and meet with those we love day by day, and though each of us grows older, and daily changes, others look the same, or quite so, and we do to them, though we are not the same — only in characteristics.

It has often been said that people, who live together for long years grow to look like each other, and to an extent, perhaps this is true. For, somehow, we absorb the thoughts, and mannerisms of others to a greater extent than we know. We know the Southern, the Yankee, the far Westerner, and those from other localities, largely from their manners and accent of words.

Time doesn't change. We change. Time goes on. It's just Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow with Time. Our minds react to the weather, to those about us, and according to how we feel at the time. But with a certain, well grounded philosophy of life, and with a plan ever before us, and with "one increasing purpose" as our guide, we can be thankful for the privilege of life itself. We can extract its joy, its gaiety, and its problems, and season every disappointment and sorrow with hope and faith.

Too much questioning is never a good thing for the soul. A willing acceptance of all that life affords should keep us on an even keel, and we should, each day of our lives, count over our blessings — one by one. We are always far better off than we may think! We can even grow old — gracefully — as we should, for none of us grows younger, except in spirit. And that growth may be the best of all!

Our Yesterdays keep growing richer in memories. Our Today's keep us alive with activities. Our Tomorrows can well be anticipations, clothed in dreams, in hope, and in an unaltered faith. And in these three tenses we may wrap up all that we are, or hope to be.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "When The Lights Go On"

Just Folks

BALLAD OF A CARELESS MAN
Day by day throughout the year
Searching round the place I go;
No one ever seems to know,
When the rooms they start to clear,
Where they stuff my bits of gear,
Where my favorite neckties go.
In this world of weal and woe,
Why must man's things disappear?

Studs I left last night right here,
I must search for, high and low.
Where, oh where, do women stow
Pen and ink which should be near?
"Underneath your nose," they sneer,
"Where you left them days ago."
Mysteries of mysteries, oh!
Why must man's things disappear?

I'm not one to interfere
With some woman's furbelow.
Meddlesome I never grow.
Rings for finger or the ear
I don't rush to hide for fear
They'll be seen by Jane or Flo.
Why must this be always so:
Why must man's things disappear?

Refrain
Lovely woman, eyes aglow,
I am waiting now to hear
Why this preference you show.
Why must man's things disappear?

BARUCH'S ATOM CONTROL PLAN BACKED BY U.S.
By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
United Nations circles have been in a considerable flurry this week over suggestions that the United States might be about to change its stand on atomic control.

The new discussions have centered around the possibilities of a plan which would sidetrack the U.N. Security Council, with its veto, and leave punishment of violators to the action of individual nations, on the theory that violation would actually constitute a declaration of war and they would be forced to act anyway.

Such a system would, in effect, set up an autonomous body for atom control, although presumably its acts affecting the maintenance of peace would ultimately come before the council. But it would emphasize individual action as against the collective action of the Baruch plan, would abandon the attempt to array moral as well as legal authority against military use of atomic power and get back to what would closely approximate the old treaty system.

U. S. Standing Firm
The idea apparently got around through misinterpretation of a speech by Chief U. S. Delegate Austin in which he discussed some of the factors considered during the evolution of the Baruch plan, and through random discussions at Lake Success regarding possible means of reconciling U. S. and Russian views on retention of the Security Council veto over recommendations of the proposed atomic authority.

Investigation indicates that there is little to get excited about, and that the U. S. is sticking by its guns for sure-fire control, operating under the United Nations, with no veto regarding punishment of violators.

Although Bernard Baruch has withdrawn from actual participation in the negotiations, he remains an important power behind them, and he is known to be clinging without reservation to his original plan.

Thus it appears the United States is standing firm for establishment of a security system with adequate punitive powers, not subject to veto, before she will take any chances with her atomic secrets.

The Russians are standing just as firmly for a treaty providing for a system of inspections, but with recommendations of the control authority as to any punishment of violators still subject to veto.

Chapter 22

Pete, too, had the notion that they weren't finished with Blackey Davis.

The Hacienda's advertising in the Monday newspaper naturally featured Gloria, as their new singer, and the paper was scarcely off the press before Bert realized their fears were fully founded.

Gloria had only just arrived, to run over her songs with the orchestra.

Bert had said, "Might as well come out early and have dinner with the family." He owed her that much consideration anyway, he felt.

So Gloria was standing right there at his desk, crisp and cool in a tight-fitting yellow linen frock, with dangling turquoise earrings and matching slippers, when the telephone rang.

"Who?" Bert's face blanched. "Yes, Miss deSilvia is right here." He handed Gloria the phone. "It's Blackey Davis. He sounds kind of mad."

"What do you want?" Gloria demanded into the mouthpiece, without any preamble. "Why do you call me here?"

Bert saw her lips draw together in a tight, thin line, as she listened silently to Blackey's somewhat lengthy answer.

"I told you Saturday night I'm finished, and that's what I mean!" Her eyes and voice had taken on a hardness that gratified Bert and yet surprised him. The receiver vibrated noisily, as Blackey spoke again, though Bert could not make out what he said.

"Well, I'm busy now," Gloria said sharply. "And don't call me again." She hung up the receiver. There were spots of anger in her cheeks.

Bert waited for her explanation. For a moment she seemed about to speak, then evidently decided explanation was unnecessary.

"Maybe I'll nap for a half hour before we start rehearsing," she said. "It was terribly hot driving out."

"Why, sure," Bert said, understandingly. "You can use Mother's room. She and Eileen have gone shopping in Palm Springs, with Mr. Halliday."

He conducted Gloria to a bedroom at the end of the long hall. His own photograph in air-corps uniform confronted him on the bureau, as he opened the door. On the table were writing materials and a half finished letter. He thought of covering it, but changed his mind.

"A little shut-eye will fix me up swell," Gloria yawned and softly closed the door.

It was certainly unfortunate that Eileen and his mother returned so soon.

"Gloria's resting in your room, gals," Bert said, jotting down a reservation. "She got pretty tired, driving out."

"Oh?" Eileen looked pretty tired, too, as she dumped small parcels on his desk.

His mother carried her purchases in to Tony, in the kitchen.

"You don't mind, do you, honey?" "No, of course not," Eileen answered quickly, turning away. But she did mind—very much. It was one thing, her manner said, to step aside for Gloria professionally, if that helped Bert in his business. But to have Gloria usurp her room was another thing entirely.

"I think I'll run over my songs with Eddy," she said a little stiffly, and went out into the dining room, where Eddy was copying an arrangement.

Mrs. McLane came back to Bert. "I think Eileen is a little upset," she said with characteristic frankness.

"You mean about Gloria being in your room?"

"I mean about the way things have been ever since Gloria came," his mother said gently.

Bert looked surprised and a little irritated. "Why, what do you mean? Eileen knows I'd never ever look at anybody else."

Mrs. McLane looked at him, unsimiling. "You may not realize it, dear, but you've been looking at Gloria pretty constantly. Maybe you aren't even aware that when we were all having sandwiches and coffee late last night, it was Gloria you sat with, and not Eileen."

"Oh, for Pete's sake! We were just discussing something. Eileen knows better than to mind. I'll go fix things with her right now."

But a succession of phone calls prevented. And it was a full hour before Gloria came out of Eileen's bedroom, fresh and rested looking, and Eileen trying to be a good sport but not succeeding, went into it, hot and tired, to get dressed for the evening's work. There wasn't time now for any relaxation.

That night it was the same; Gloria's sultry songs, her vivid personality, completely eclipsed Eileen's performance. In comparison, Eileen felt deep humiliation, she was completely colorless.

And it only made things worse when Bert tried so hard to spare her feelings.

"Come on, give them an encore, honey!"

But the thin applause, which quickly died, certainly didn't warrant another song. Eileen told him in a strained voice, "I'm too tired, Bert. Please let Jerry take my time."

She left the stage, and little Jerry Sneed, the freckle-faced lad who was also dishwasher, came out in his bright cow-puncher's outfit and twirled his lariat. He strung it out for the folks evidently were enjoying it. And that was all okay.

But Bert couldn't help wondering, as he watched them, what Eileen and Mr. Halliday were talking about so earnestly over in the corner.

"Scram!" Carolina towered over him, still clenched. "Or do you want some help?"

Blackey made a swift, undignified exit, wiping blood from the corner of his mouth. The four boys grimly escorted him to the door.

White as paper now, Gloria was holding her wrist.

"Let me look at it," Bert said anxiously. A dark bruise circled it, like a bracelet. "The brute! Come on, let me bathe it."

Gloria was swaying. Bert caught her around the waist. Suddenly she went to pieces, breaking down upon his shoulder in tears.

"Oh, Bert! He's so terrible when he's angry. I never should have come out here at all today—"

"There, there, honey, never mind! He won't bother you any more, while I'm around." He pressed her shoulder, reassuringly.

Eileen had reached the doorway as Gloria spoke. But neither of them saw her, and she silently withdrew.

She came to Bert some time later, while he was running through a new fox trot number with the band.

She had on her hat and jacket. Gloria, still depressed, was seated at a table, drinking a coke. She face was etched with fury. He looked mad enough to kill.

"Where is she?" he demanded. "Where's Gloria?"

Bert looked at Blackey levelly, remembering that night he had faced Blackey across the other's desk, at the Oasis, asking for a job.

He said blandly into the telephone, "Four for tonight, at eight? Yes, we can take care of you."

Before he had hung up, Gloria was there in the doorway, her eyes shooting fire. Her voice lashed out at Blackey. "What do you mean following me here?"

They faced each other like game cocks ready to spring. Then suddenly Blackey's face softened, as he gazed, hungrily, at Gloria's flaming beauty—her white shoulders, in the low-cut peasant dress, the swell of her firm, round breasts. His voice softened, too, but his choice of words was wrong.

"Cut out the comedy, Gloria. You don't belong in a two-penny joint like this. Get in your car. You're coming back with me."

Gloria seethed with hatred. "You're not giving me any orders—not any more!" she flung back, and with a scornful look, she walked away.

Blackey caught her wrist and roughly turned her around. "You heard me, didn't you?" he thundered. "You're coming back with me!"

"Let me go, you—you!" she spat, snarled wrathfully, trying to jerk away.

Bert was on his feet, his temper flaring.

"Take your hands off her, Davis! You're not pulling any caveman stuff around here."

"Keep out of this, you cheap little—" Blackey Davis never finished the sentence. Bert's fist connected with his jaw and he reeled against the doorframe.

"Get out of here before I throw you out!" Bert yelled at him.

Blackey took an uncertain step forward, fist raised, then stopped. Four lean, fit-looking ex-veterans had popped out of their rooms and were ganging up around him.

"What's all the rumpus?" Eddy demanded. "Who's this loudmouth, anyway?"

Roy and Charlie looked as though they would enjoy a fight. Against such odds, Blackey Davis was in a spot.

"We'll settle this thing later, McLane," he said sullenly. "And don't forget it."

"Scram!" Carolina towered over him, still clenched. "Or do you want some help?"

Blackey made a swift, undignified exit, wiping blood from the corner of his mouth. The four boys grimly escorted him to the door.

White as paper now, Gloria was holding her wrist.

"Let me look at it," Bert said anxiously. A dark bruise circled it, like a bracelet. "The brute! Come on, let me bathe it."

Folk Songs of Alps
In addition to rare old pre-classical church music and groups of seldom-performed works for 16th-century blockflutes, viola da gamba and spinet or virginal, their programs offer folk songs of the Austrian Alps, calling upon their skill at yodeling, that form of musical language without words which has been handed down from Tyrolean fathers and mothers to Tyrolean sons and daughters for generations, but which is fast becoming a lost art. Promised also are performances of several recently completed transcriptions by Father Wanser of popular American and English folk melodies which the family have assimilated on their concert travels, including new settings for the "Londonderry Air," "Home on the Range," "My Old Kentucky Home," and other favorites.

Although established today as one of America's most heavily booked concert attractions, the Trapp Family did not perform publicly until ten years ago, when the Metropolitan Opera soprano, Mme. Lotte Lehmann, first encouraged them to turn their hobby of a-cappella singing to professional uses.

Lived In Castle
Previously the eleven Barons and Baronesses, heirs to an old Austrian title (the family includes, in addition to the nine who will be heard here, the father, Baron Georg von Trapp, the eldest son, Rupert, and a small American-born boy, Johannes) lived quietly in a medieval castle on their estate in the picturesque mountains near Salzburg. They had always loved to sing together, and for their own amusement had roamed the countryside collecting folk songs and mountain yodels which had never before been written down. During the long winter evenings the older members of the family liked to gather around the mammoth fireplace in the baronial hall and sing, these old melodies.

Joined by Priest
In time they were joined by Father Wanser, a young priest who had studied music in Italy and had for three years held the post of organist at the Austrian National Church in Rome, Santa Maria dell' Anima. He became their private chaplain, as well as their musical director, and prepared for their use special transcriptions of old church music and folk songs. He it was, too, who instructed the family in the playing of the ancient instruments which opened up to them a whole new repertoire of works by the early Italian, German and Elizabethan composers.

When Mme. Lehmann, visiting the Trapp home, first suggested the possibility of the family's sharing these musical delights with the concert public, the head of the family, Baron von Trapp, expressed disapproval, and only after the group had captured first prize in an amateur competition, winning over four other choruses, did he relent. Shortly after, the singers were invited to give a command performance at

DEVINE FAMILY IN SECLUSION
Lodi, Calif., Jan. 24 (AP)—The J. Edward Devines and their 17-year-old daughter, Alice, were in strict seclusion today while police broadened their search for a man who, they said, kidnapped the girl, threatened her and struggled with her but did not otherwise molest her in a 20-hour abduction last Monday.

Alice guided officers yesterday over the trail she said her captor had followed, and District Attorney Chester Watson said the inspection yielded "several pieces of evidence" substantiating her story and came new "leads" in the case. He did not amplify on the clues.

Watson obtained a detailed statement from the Lodi high school honor student, and from it told this story—which he said he believed "truthful in every respect":

A man using the name "Giles" arranged with the Devines to have Alice's photograph taken at a local studio for a national publication. She left the studio with the man at 7:30 p. m. Monday. He drove her to a rural lane, stopped the car, bound her and gagged her, then took her to a tourist cabin near Sacramento where he held her prisoner overnight. Next day, when he left to make a telephone call she freed herself from her bonds and escaped.

doctor. There are always family reunions at Stowe at Christmas and Easter time, and each spring at the end of the tour. Then, in the summer, all of the family work together in the operation of the highly successful Trapp Family Music Camp, where more than six hundred music lovers from all parts of the country foregather for four ten-day "Sing Weeks," learning to sing the old folk and church music and play the ancient instruments with their foremost exponents.

Justice Department Teams With Congress To Solve Portal Pay Problem

PLEADING FOR DISMISSALS IN LABOR ACTIONS

Washington, Jan. 24 (AP) — A double-barreled government attack on the portal pay problem shaped up today in Congress and the courts.

The Justice Department entered the picture with a plea that retroactive claims for pay involving "trifles" of employees' time should be dismissed.

And on Capitol Hill Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Senate judiciary committee said his group is ready for fast action on suggested legislative remedies. Another Senator told reporters privately the GOP Senate policy committee has stamped the issue "urgent."

Blames Two Men

In the House, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) of the committee on Un-American activities blamed the whole problem on two men he said "have long records of Communist affiliation."

He said the official journal of the union of mine, mill and smelter workers credited the idea of portal pay suits to Ben Riskin, the union's former research director. Thomas declared Riskin has several "Communist affiliations."

He added that the original action against the Mt. Clemens Pottery Co. was brought by Attorney Edward Lamb of Toledo, who "like Mr. Riskin has followed the Communist party line and has associated himself with numerous fronts which have been set up during the past ten years."

He Resents It

Lamb, who denied knowing Riskin, told a reporter at Sun Valley, Idaho, that he began the Mt. Clemens court action "in order that the employees might be paid for the time which they were required to spend on the employer's premises." He added:

"I resent being accused of participation in any un-American activity. I believe in the American system of free enterprise. I am proud to have participated in many civil liberties and other cases involving the fundamental rights of American citizens."

The Justice Department stand same in a brief filed with federal Judge Frank A. Picard. His ruling in a Detroit case that portal pay claims by workers of the Mt. Clemens (Mich.) Pottery Co. were valid was upheld by the Supreme court and a wave of suits against other employers followed. Sums involved now top $4,000,000.

Richard Upheld

The Justice Department contended:

"Plainly an employer is not entitled to deduct trifling personal pursuit periods in computing the work week and by the same token the employee should not be entitled to the addition of trifling periods of preliminary activity."

The Supreme court upheld Judge Picard's finding that the workers are entitled to pay under the wage-hour act for time "necessarily" controlled by the employer. The high court sent the case back to him to determine how much the Mt. Clemens workers have coming.

The Justice Department brief asked Judge Picard to consider the effect of his decision "upon the employment relationship and the public interest in the light of the realities of the industrial world."

It is estimated that the number of teachers in U. S. elementary and high schools dropped from 927,000 in 1941 to 868,000 in 1944-5.

WILL EXAMINE BETTING BILL

Harrisburg, Jan. 24 (AP) — A proposed bill to legalize pari-mutuel betting on horse racing in Pennsylvania came up for discussion today at the quarterly meeting of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Paul Koenig, president of the federation, said the bill would be studied from all angles to determine whether it warranted support by the federation in the Legislature, or whether the state-wide organization would lobby against the measure.

The federation voted yesterday to hold the 1947 convention at Buck Hill Falls, Monroe county, on May 6-8, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. J. Stewart Williams, of Kingston, vice president in charge of the northeastern district.

This will be the first convention of the group since 1944, and the traditional date in July was passed up in order to hold the convention prior to the meeting of the general federation of women's clubs in New York city, June 23-29.

Mrs. John R. Walter, of Aliquippa, was named to serve on the regional committee of the national council of Girl Scouts as co-chairman.

PINERO LOOKS TO VETERANS FOR FUTURE

By VERN HAUGLAND

(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Puerto Rico's Governor Jesus T. Pinero says the island territory is looking to its 60,000 war veterans to lead it into an industrial economy.

Pinero, visiting in Washington, said in an interview: "We cannot survive on agriculture alone. We are on the verge of beginning a vast vocational education program, starting with our veterans—with the aid of the Veterans Administration and the department of Education."

Chronic Unemployment

He pointed out that Puerto Rico suffers from chronic unemployment and said at least two thirds of its people live just above the starvation level. But, he continued:

"Our young men were cured of their diseases and well fed in the services, and they have returned with an unusual zest and spirit. Many of them are trying to get their eighth grade diplomas, and we hope to give all a chance to educate and train themselves to the level they desire. We are counting heavily upon their help in our efforts to bring industries to Puerto Rico."

New Enterprises

The industrialization effort already has started in a modest way, Pinero says. The new enterprises include:

A second cement plant, erected by private industry, to supplement a government-built plant.

A glass factory to manufacture all the bottles it needs for its major product, rum.

A paper-board factory, manufacturing containers from cane fiber.

A shoe factory.

A clay products factory.

Puerto Rico also has decided to introduce modern fishing methods and Pinero says he sees Puerto Rico as the principal trans-shipping point for goods from the United States to the Caribbean area and central America "as soon as we can get the shipping."

Housing Shortage Too

As for tourists, Puerto Rico is not yet prepared to invite them but is looking forward to the establishment of good hotels.

"Like the United States, we have a housing shortage and scarcity of materials," Pinero says.

The Puerto Rico development company is building a 300-room hotel which will be a management yardstick for the other hotels on the island.

The swarthy former dairyman predicts that the island will produce more than 1,000,000 tons of sugar this year—"but we're keeping our fingers crossed as to whether there will be strikes."

Pinero says the Puerto Ricans believe they should be granted a plebi-

Top Eight Floors Of Hotel Flooded

Philadelphia, Jan. 24 (AP)—Fifty thousand gallons of water flooded the eight top floors of the 30-story scite to determine whether they wish statehood, independence or local self-government of the dominion type. A congressional bill providing for such a plebiscite died in committee last year, but Governor Pinero says new action will be sought this year.

Drake hotel, then spilled out open windows into the street, creating a number of miniature waterfalls.

A broken connection to a huge water tank on top of the hotel was responsible for the flood.

Guests were evacuated from virtually all of the hotel's 750 rooms as water gushed nearly waist-deep through corridors and down stairways.

Sub-freezing temperatures froze the water after it hit the street forcing traffic to be re-routed temporarily.

News From Littlestown

MRS. ZIEGLER IS HOME FROM WESTERN COAST

Mrs. Loretta Ziegler, Littlestown, has returned home after a two-months visit in California at the home of her brother-in-law, H. Edward Ziegler, Mill Valley, which is about 12 miles from San Francisco. Mrs. Ziegler, 78, and who is affectionately known as "Grandma" to the people of Littlestown, made the trip by bus. She left Littlestown on Monday, November 4, and arrived in San Francisco on Friday, November 8. The short bus ride from there to Mill Valley takes one over the famed Golden Gate Bridge. Mrs. Ziegler has five nieces, all married to business men. She also has one nephew there. Her brother-in-law, Mr. Ziegler, is now 74. Mrs. Ziegler stated to a Gettysburg Times reporter that she had a most enjoyable trip. One of her sight-seeing trips took her to the huge California Redwoods, and she brought back several Redwood souvenirs. She also brought an orange plucked from a tree at the home of one of her nieces. She found the climate very cool, and wasn't there long before she sent for her winter coat. Mill Valley is near the ocean, and fog and ocean breezes account for the cold weather. She started her return trip on Thursday, January 9, but got only as far as Reno, Nev., when she became ill on the bus. She was admitted to St. Mary's hospital there, suffering from a digestive disturbance. She resumed her trip home on Wednesday, January 15, and arrived in Littlestown Sunday morning. Mrs. Ziegler had nothing but praise for the bus-drivers, whom she found kind, courteous, and helpful. "Grandma" is planning another visit to California this summer if she can arrange it.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Casey, Wollaston, Mass., announce the birth of a son Tuesday. Mrs. Casey is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Frock, Littlestown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Messinger visited on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McKony, Baltimore.

A public bingo party will be held in St. Aloysius' Hall Saturday evening.

The Arendtsville basketball teams will play tonight at the Littlestown high school.

CONGRESSMAN WOULD BALANCE BUDGET AT ONCE

Washington, Jan. 24 (AP)—Adopting a "why-wait-until-next-year?" attitude, Rep. Taber (R-NY) said Thursday he intends to balance the federal budget "this year."

Taber, chairman of both the House Appropriations and Joint Senate-House Budget committees, already has disclosed plans to (1) use a "sledgehammer" on the 1948 budget and (2) re-survey all 1947 spending programs which still are awaiting actual outlays of money.

Today Taber said he will go one step further—by digging into appropriations actually voted by the last Congress. The objective will be to recapture some of the money not yet spent.

Sees Sums To Be Saved
Shaking a finger at OPA, the Commerce Department and the army and navy, the New Yorker told a reporter: "My studies indicate very large sums that can be cut back from appropriations already made, affecting many government departments. Also I believe the administration has underestimated revenues in the current year by $1,000,000,000. So I believe we can balance the budget this year as well as next year."

The Treasury now estimates current year spending at $42,500,000,000 and revenues at $40,200,000,000, leaving a deficit of around $2,300,000,000. Mr. Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 calls for the first balanced budget since 1930.

But Taber contends that is too long to wait.

"I have talked with representatives of many government departments and members of Congress," he said. "Why over at OPA they still have 15,000 employees, with 7,500 doing absolutely nothing. There's an example of what I mean."

"Then there's the Commerce department. Anybody can walk over and see. They don't have to take my word for it. A lot of the new units are sitting around doing nothing. There are set-ups in the Social Security Administration that need trimming."

"Over in the navy they have some setups where five men are doing what one man should. One man I know took a walk through the Pentagon and he counted until he got to 65 officers and other (army) employees. He couldn't count five percent of them working."

Berne, Ind. (AP)—Book Dealer Fred von Gunten's most profitable mystery today was not bound in printed pages, though it was sheathed in leather. POSTHUMOUS HERO'S MEDAL GIVEN WIDOW

Pittsburgh, Jan. 24 (AP)—A Brookville, Pa., widow who received a Carnegie Hero Fund commission medal posthumously awarded to her clergyman husband, knew today that he had lived up to the finest tradition of his belief. "Greater love hath no man..."

The hero was the Rev. H. Edgar Doverspike, 39, who was standing nearby when 10-year-old Stephen Huggins tumbled into an eight-foot-deep drainage sluice last May 6 in Albany, Ill.

Fully clothed, the minister dived into the sluice, swam to the boy, seized him and started for shore. The boy threw his arms around his rescuer's neck. Both went under and drowned.

Cash Pension Too
The medal, which carried with it a cash pension and other benefits for the clergyman's widow, was one of 12 awarded by the commission yesterday for acts of heroism. A silver medal went to Vernon

L. Listman, 17-year-old Merchant Marine fireman of Pasadena, Md., for his daring part in the rescue of three-year-old James Hollin, Jr., who fell into a well at Whitneys Landing, Md., and lodged 22 feet below the surface.

Listman, a rope about his ankles, was lowered headfirst into the hole, only 14 inches in diameter, three times before he was able to grasp and bring up the boy. The child was unhurt.

Three For Bus Tragedy
It was the first Silver medal awarded since 1942.

All the other medals given were bronze. Three went to members of one family—Alan Rice, 45, industrial arts teacher of Wenatchee, Wash., his son, Alan Herbert, 17, and his daughter, Margaret Elaine, 15. They saved the lives of two persons November 26, 1945, at Manson, Wash., when a bus plunged into a lake during a blizzard, drowning 15 children and the driver.

Would Increase Pheasant Stock

Harrisburg, Jan. 24 (AP)—The state Game Commission called upon sportsmen's organizations today to support a drive to increase Pennsylvania's pheasant population.

Preparing for another pheasant propagating season similar to that of last year, the commission asked more than 250 clubs and individuals to participate in a 1947 program.

It is seeking to have the clubs to raise day-old chicks, with the commission providing 500 pounds of mash for every 100 day-old chicks requested.

ADAMS COUNTY'S OWN

Troop A, 104th Cavalry, Pennsylvania National Guard

Adams countians can be proud of their illustrious record of military service dating back as far as the bloody French and Indian Wars. Adams county's own Troop A proudly carries on this record.

1756—Captain Hance Hamilton formed a company of 200 men from the territory which was later to become Adams county, for protection against the Indians during the French and Indian Wars. The company took part in the battle of Sliding Hill.

1775—An Independent Light Infantry Company, the first of eight companies, was formed for Revolutionary War service in what was later to be Adams county.

1800—Adams county was formed.

1812—Captain Samuel Shriver organized a company of U. S. Militia, the first of a number of companies composed of Adams countians during the War of 1812.

1814—Recruiting of the 2nd Brigade, 5th Infantry Division.

1817—Captain George Zeigler arranged the formation of a company of Pennsylvania Guard.

1828—Captain William T. McCurdy organized a troop of Pennsylvania Militia.

1863—Co. E, 2nd Pennsylvania Regiment, was mustered into service, and was the first of a number of troops to see service during the Civil War.

1898—Company E became an infantry unit for service in the Spanish-American War.

1917—Mustered into regular army.

1923—Company E was formed as part of the 28th Division.

1941—Captain Bream organized a unit of Pennsylvania State Guard to replace the regular National Guard company when it was activated for service in World War II.

1947—Company A, 104th Cavalry.

NCCW COUNCIL GETS AWARD FOR WAR SERVICES

The St. Aloysius Parish Council of the National Council of Catholic Women held its monthly meeting Wednesday evening in the parish rectory. The president, Miss Helena Pfaff, was in charge of the meeting, which was opened with prayer by the pastor, Rev. Fr. John H. Weber. Reports were given by Miss Evelyn C. Altoff and Miss Anna C. Weaver. It was announced that the donations of cookies and cash to the NCCW-USO at Harrisburg would be discontinued, as the center was closed on December 30. A certificate of merit awarded to the St. Aloysius Parish Council "in grateful recognition for meritorious service in co-operation with Catholic War Services" was displayed.

A donation of five dollars was voted to the Infantile Paralysis Fund drive. The president announced that the penny parade mite box donations to be contributed to the Bishop's Fund for Diocesan Needs, will be collected by the Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1. Miss Mary Rita Redding is troop leader and also chairman of the Diocesan Needs committee. Mrs. Paul E. Altoff, chairman of the Public Relations committee, read a short history of the life of St. Francis de Sales, patron saint of the Catholic Press, whose feast-day is next Wednesday. She also had available for distribution novels by Catholic authors, and copies of the Catholic Digest, which members were privileged to choose from and take home to read, same to be returned at the next meeting.

Father Weber Speaks

Mrs. Altoff had with her a copy of the February issue of the Catholic Literary Foundation "forecast" which features an article about Rev. Raphael H. Gross, who has had a book published by the Bruce Publishing Company, "A Century of the Catholic Essay", a selection of 46 essays collected by him. Father Gross was at one time a part of the Conewago Deanery, having spent two years as assistant pastor at St. Francis Xavier church, Gettysburg. He is now professor of English on the St. Joseph College faculty, Collegeville, Indiana, where Rev. Clarence J. Schuerman, formerly assistant pastor at St. Aloysius church, Littlestown, is librarian. Father Weber spoke briefly, stressing the primary duty of every council member, personal sanctifica-

GOOD RESPONSE TO POLIO FUND IN LITTLESTOWN

Response in Littlestown to the annual appeal for the Infantile Paralysis fund has been "widespread and generous," Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, Littlestown chairman, said today.

Boxes for contributions have been placed in 25 Littlestown business places and Mrs. Weikert and her helpers are disposing of general admission tickets at $2 per person and sponsors' tickets at $5 or more each. The sponsors' names will appear on the dance programs at the polo party to be held Thursday evening, January 30, at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Mrs. Weikert announced this list of sponsors from Littlestown:

Littlestown High Play January 31

The annual Littlestown high school play will be presented by the students on Friday, January 31, at 8 p.m., in the high school auditorium.

The cast of characters will include the following: Jackie Baughman, Harold Hockensmith, Jane Bowers, Robert King, Brenda Walker, Oneida Snyder, Dolores Dayhoff, Richard Little, James Motter, Dorothy Knight, Jack Miller, and Charles Hall.

Same-Day Service On Loans

We make loans for any worthy purpose in large or small amounts. The rate is low and terms are flexible. There are times when nearly everyone can use extra money with profit. We are genuinely interested in serving each depositor according to the need.

Service is friendly, prompt, and confidential. There is no formality or red tape. If you need extra funds to pay holiday bills, to readjust and simplify your financial situation, or to carry out plans for the new year, then a loan will help. Come in and talk with one of our officers—any time—no obligation.

Duff Seeks Facts On Pa. Tax Needs

Harrisburg, Jan. 26 (AP)—Governor Duff turned today to the legislature—and the public—in the quest for an "overall picture" of the Commonwealth's need for new money to finance a proposed expansion of state services.

Noting "some confusion exists in the public's mind" on the status of state finances, the newly inaugurated governor said "it is enormously important for the public to realize that if they are going to have new services they must pay for them."

He told his first gubernatorial news conference yesterday that he has asked Senate President Weldon B. Heyburn and House Speaker Franklin H. Lichtenwalter to name a six-member committee, including two Democrats, to study the entire situation.

Brooklyn was incorporated with New York City in 1898.

Save the wood ashes from the fireplace in a barrel or box in which they will stay dry until early next spring, when they may be used in the garden. If permitted to become wet, much of their value as fertilizer will be lost. They have a high potash content and may be used on any kind of plant.

DR. POTTER IS SPEAKER FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Dr. Leonard L. Potter was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity, Wednesday evening, in the P. O. S. of A. hall. He told of his experiences as an army doctor, and described the hospitals and medical care in the army. He was on New Guinea, Leyte, and later in Manila. He told of the daily rains; the natives; and the entertainment held for officers and enlisted men. The natives, he stated, would do almost any job for cigarettes. The hardships of the natives occasioned by the war, and the destruction of Manila, were also recounted by the speaker. He concluded by showing movies he had taken of many points of interest, including Corregidor, and Manila; lakes, and hospitals; and pictures taken on his trip home, both on the ship and later on the train trip.

At the business meeting, the club voted a donation of ten dollars to the Infantile Paralysis Fund drive. Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, president, presided at the meeting, which opened with singing of "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes." A committee from the Youth Center, composed of Herbert Sell and Brenda Walker, told of the center's need for a phonograph, and for funds to continue their winter program. An affair is held each Saturday night at the Youth Center, which is located on the second floor of the firemen's building. The club decided to help the youth center, and the members will take turns acting as chaperone on Saturday nights.

Mrs. Weikert, chairman of the Infantile Paralysis fund drive in Littlestown, spoke on this cause. Following the business meeting, a program was held, opening with a piano solo by Miss Louise Dutta. Next Miss Lorraine Myers sang three solos, "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Villia," and "You Keep Coming Back Like a Song." Dr. Potter's speech and showing of movies completed the program.

The program committee for the meeting consisted of Miss Malva Dutta, Mrs. Clayton Evans, Mrs. Edward Richardson, Mrs. Maurice Rider, and Mrs. Millard Basehore. The hostess committee comprised Mrs. George Bemiller, Mrs. Carl Baumgardner, Mrs. Robert L. Crouse, Mrs. Milton Harner, Mrs. Edward Leister, Mrs. Albert Lawler, and Mrs. Frederick Seibel.

Rev. Frank E. Reynolds will be the speaker at the meeting February 19. The program committee for this meeting will consist of Mrs. George DeHoff, Mrs. Harry M. Badgers, Miss Evelyn Hornberger, Mrs. Erwin Rebert, and Mrs. Clair Worley. The hostess committee will include Mrs. Roy Kindig, Miss Edna Blocher, Mrs. Arthur Feaser, Mrs. John Kindig, and Mrs. Frank Matthias.

Says Price Jumps Cancel Pay Raises

Washington, Jan. 24 (AP)—An official of the National Education Association said salary increases granted teachers during 1946 "are being cancelled out by the upward trend in prices," leaving their financial distress as bad as ever.

Willard E. Givens, NEA executive secretary, estimated in a statement that the average salary of teachers, principals and supervisors for the 1945-46 school year was about $2,000. Saying it is too early to predict what the 1946-47 average salary will be, Givens added:

"Unless the average has advanced

LEGION POST OKAYS GUARD

Ocker-Snyder post, No. 321, American Legion, Littlestown, adopted a resolution at its meeting Thursday night approving the new Adams county unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard, now being formed with headquarters at Gettysburg.

The 1947 paid membership was increased to 187 with the addition of three new members, Jay D. Basehoar, Robert W. Gouker, and Victor Gordon. The post called to the attention of veterans of this vicinity the information in a recent press release from the U. S. Civil Service Commission stating that many announcements for positions in government service are now being issued and veterans should avail themselves of the opportunity of taking the examinations for positions for which they are qualified, and have their names placed on the register. It should be noted, the statement added, that veterans with ten points preference may reopen any examination for positions where a probationary appointment has been made within the last three years. The Legionnaires urge all veterans who are interested or who are in this particular category to apply to the Legion post or to their local post office for additional information.

BURNS FATAL
Greenville, Pa., Jan. 24 (AP)—Burns suffered Wednesday by Mrs. Mayme Cullen, 70, when an open gas stove ignited her clothing, proved fatal yesterday in the Greenville hospital. Mrs. Cullen was burned as she stood by the stove reading a letter from her son, James J. Cullen, of New Castle.

by $300 to $400, the problem of recruiting and keeping teachers will continue to grow worse, as teachers' salaries continue to drop in purchasing power."

Givens contended that a teacher whose monthly salary was $200 in December, 1945, needed $236 in December, 1946, to be able to buy the same things. And, he declared, "a $236 in December, 1946, bought only as much as $150 bought in the prewar years."

Columbus' entire expedition probably cost about $7,000.

TEST LEGALITY OF CLOSED SHOP

Philadelphia, Jan. 24 (AP)—There Lancaster, Pa., workers are challenging the legality of the closed union shop in a suit filed in U. S. District court. The workers, employed by the Hubley Manufacturing Co., petitioned the court Wednesday to restrain the firm from discharging any employee who fails to pay dues or refuses to join a union. The petition asks that a closed shop agreement between the company and Local 287, International Molders, and Foundry Workers (AFL) be declared invalid. Asserting that employees were not given the right to choose their own bargaining agent, the plaintiffs—Roy Millhouse, William F. Baumgardner and Benjamin Swisher—seek a temporary injunction pending a ruling by the national labor relations board on two unfair labor practice complaints. The complaints assert that employees were forced to join the union and that the company signed an illegal contract. The workers told the court, which took the case under advisement, that they and about 150 workers will be fired unless those who already are union members pay delinquent dues and those who are not members join.
